

MEASURING FOR A HAT

1. Head Circumference

- Measured with a cloth tape, taken at the level at which the hat is to be worn.
- Take the measure just above the tips of the ears, across the middle of the forehead and parallel to the floor.

2. Side to Side Measure

Hold a straight edge flat against each side of the head, just above the ear. A second person now uses two other rulers to measure the distance between the front and back end of the two straight edges. The "side to side" is usually around 6" (15cm).

3. Front to Back Measure

This procedure is repeated in a similiar manner to find the "front to back" measurement. Place a straight edge against the forehead, above the eyebrows at the point at which the hat is to be worn. Hold the second straight edge on the back of the head at the point at which the hat will be worn. Holding them level and parallel, measure between both sets of ends adjusting until both measurements are equal. This is the " front to back" length of the head. Make certain that the rulers and straight edges are parallel and meet at right angles when the measurements are taken. Note: The "front to back measure is usually between 7" (17.5cm) and 8" (20cm).

The "side to side" is usually around 6" (15cm).
